

ABSTRACT

Dani Tri astuti

Anxiety description and the handling strategy to pupil the killing case has already entered the assimilation period at LAPAS anak pria Tangerang (Naomi Soetikno, Psi. dan Widya Risnawaty, M.Psi); Psychology Study Program. Bachelor degree Program, Tarumanagara University. (Pages 1-85, P1-P4).

This research aim was to find anxiety description and the handling strategy at criminal children of the killing case that was entered the assimilation period. Assimilation is process to reprepared the pupil to be a part of community and generally they will perform they development assignment as adolescent. Taking data in this research use in-depth interview method and Hamilton rating scale for anxiety (HRS-A). Subject in this research is criminal children with the killing case has been through a half of his punishment period. Based on interview has done to three subject, be found that cause of anxiety when free approach is refusal from community, be scared didn't get a job, and the condition of sacrifice family that may still have revenge to doer. The excessive anxiety will be bad their condition, so the handling strategy needed. Result of this research gained, first subject using the handling strategy that focused to avoidance, second subject using the handling strategy that focused to emotion whereas the three subject using the handling strategy that focused to the problem.

Key words: The criminal children, assimilation, anxiety, the handling strategy