

ABSTRACT

Regina Lidya

Decision Making to stop as napza user (Dra. Fransisca Iriani, M.Si.); Psychology Study Program. First Degree Scholar Title. Tarumanagara University. Page. 1 – 121, P1 – P3.

This research is purpose in order to describe decision making when a certain person stop as napza user, Decision making is a certain process that involve fusion and unification information to choose one from several possibility. In these research decision making infect by inside self factor and environment factor.

Napza is an essence or drugs that makes from organic plants or not from organic plants although semi product that can cause heavy descent or awareness descent, decrease, till opiate pain and can cause dependence or addicted. The data withdrawal in this research is done by utilise interview method, toward four subject. This research subject is former napza user that stop upon on self desire at least for five year.

Based on interview report from all the subject conclude that inside self factor and environment factor play role in decision making. One of the subjects success utilise eight step in decision making process, and all the subjects use creative decision

Key word : desicion making, napza.