The screenshot shows a Gmail inbox with the search term "journal of human" applied. There are 89 messages, with 9 visible. The inbox list includes:

- Reviewer: 1
  - Comments to the Author: This is a very interesting article to read. However, I find that the article conclusion need more explanation to tide back to the four research objectives of this study. English editing is also required.
- Reviewer: 2
  - Comments to the Author: Abstract should be corrected and edited.
Diversity issues have not been identified. These should be the main categories used in the content analysis. Diversity such as SARA (tribe, religion, race, groups) should be explained, categorised, and analyzed according to content analysis.
Introduction should be shortened to two pages. This is too long (5 pages). Theories in the introduction should be put in theory section. Direct quotations should be identified with quotation marks. There are a lot of repetitions, such as in page 4 on the objectives, which have been mentioned in the abstract. The problem statement is unclear.

Sub section (Introduction) should be in the new page, do not leave the sub head alone there.
There are so many spelling and grammatical mistakes, the paper should be edited by professional editor.
There are so many possibly direct quotations without question marks, all mass media should be italic.
Proposition in the sub head should be in minuscule.
- Pleas read article:

Below the inbox, a list of recent documents is shown:

- Andi Faisal Bakti, "Major conflicts in Indonesia: ....", Review of Human Factor Studies, vol. 6, no. 2, December, 2000:33-56.
